heard.

Attorney J. J. Desmond appeared for Joseph Callahan, who objected to the grade, so far as it relates to his land, as it will deluge his land in times of rain. He thought it could be modified.

Alderman Stetson stated that the grade had been dropped to suit Mr. Callahan's welk and it was understood he was satisfied. The committee thought Mr. Callahan would be injured if the grade was dropped fur-

S. B. Palmer, civil engineer, explained the grade and said it was sufficient to carry the surface water off. The grade had been lowered two inches for Mr. Callahan's benefit.

G. E. Pitcher as engineer for Mr. Callahan stated that the water would not run off as well as it did before. He said the curb had been raised near the brow of the hill.

The hearing was declared closed, and Alderman Stetson, believing that the grade could not be improved, moved its approval as described, which was done.

The hoard of gas and electric commissioners reported that they had considered the bill of Attorney C. E. Thayer, which had been referred to them, finding that it is justly due and should be paid. The bill is for $250 for services from October 1, 1908, to April 1, 1802.

Alderman Robinson moved that the city treasurer be authorized to pay the bill on the order of the gas and electric commissioners, which was passed. Upon the petition of P. J. Dominic Diadato, the Italian under sentence of death, was charged with the intimidation of a witness in the New London police court Monday Carderillo, who is 19 years old, pleaded not gulty through a guardian. It was alleged that by threats and acts of intimidation Carderillo tried to make of intimidation Carderillo tried to make Mary Marino swear to false statements. After hearing evidence Judge Coit found Carderillo gulity. He was fined $50 and sentenced to juli far four months. Carderillo took an appeal to the court of common pleas and regained his liberty on a bond of $350, furniseld by Mrs. Pasquale Santangelo. Mary Marino testified that she was a witness, summoned by the state in the murder trial, and that she went on the stand in the superior court

Mrs. Marino said she testified that Barbuto had no stiletto as far as she knew. Saturday night the woman said Carderillo came to her and showed her a razor. Then he said Til taste your blood." She said she was afraid of Carderillo.

Patrolman Corcoran told the court that he heard the woman's complaint and arrested Carderillo. He found the razor in his pocket.

Carderillo said Mary Marino paid his carfare up to Norwich and back.

Carderillo said Mary Marino paid his carfare up to Norwich and back. She told him that Barbuto had a knife before his fight with Diadato. The presence of the razor in his pocket, he explained by saying that he had shaved a man with it at noon. He had forgotten to leave it home. Mary told him, he claimed, that she had broken up the stiletto that Barbuto carried.

Prosecuting Attorney Cronin informed the court thath he had acted with State Attorney Hull in the murder case and that Mary Marino had been one of the state's principal witnesses. Her testimony was ostemsibly truthful. He said that Carderillo was one of a great many persons who sought to have testimony altered. The prosecutors in many cases were harassed by just such attempts to obstruct Justice.

Fire Apparatus at Greensville. Fire Apparatus at Greeneville.

The fire commissioners made their report upon the petition of the United States Finishing company and other manufacturers in the Greeneville district for better protection there: that they find the conditions as follows: There is a six year old modern truck in the double station with 210 feet of modern ladders, two hired horses being used to draw the apparatus. It is a volunteer company of more than enough men to handle the ladders and apparatus. The only way to make it efficient will be to have horses in the station with not less than two permanent men.

There is a three year old, fourth size Metropolian engine with a capacity of 500 gailons a minute handled by a competent engineer, stoker and call men. Two horses hired outside haul the apparatus, and as a rule the response is ratisfactory. The tender for the engine is a four wheel hose carriage, hand drawn, and by crowding can be made to carry 500 feet of hose, which is not enough. It is 45 years old and the only piece of apparatus in the city hand drawn. There is no room to carry fire extinguishers for small fires, or cellar pipes, deulge sets or the city hand drawn. There is no room to carry fire extinguishers for semail fires, or ceilar pipes, deuige sets or larger tools. The weakest point in the fire protection of the Greeneville district appears to be in the hand drawn hose carriage. The company is volunteer, with no permanent men, covering a large district, and in addition to the large industries, there is the annexed district and the buildings west of Central avenue to Sachem park, which demand something more than a hand drawn carriage, particularly in winter with snow on the ground, and the distance to be coveerd, and so men in the station.

The committee recommended that as soon as possible a combination chemical wagon be purchased and installed in place of the old hose carriage, and hire horses to respond from some stable located near the station, or purchase an automobils combination chemical machine and install it in the center of the city and move the horses and combination wagon to the Greeneville station. Also have not less than two permanent men at this station, with sufficient number of call men sleeping in the station at night. As the amount of money appropriated for 1909 and 1910 will not allow of the above recommendations, your committee can make the above and other necble located near the station, or purchase an automobile combination chemical machine and install it in the center of the city and move the horses and combination wagon to the Greene-ville station. Also have not less than two permanent men at this station, with sufficient number of call men sleeping in the station at night. As the amount of money appropriated for 1909 and 1910 will not allow of the above recommendations, your committee can make the above and other necessary changes as soon as sufficient money is appropriated. The report was accepted.
